

Is Kim a fit for your event or organization?

Why Kim might NOT be a good fit:

If you are looking for an expert in your industry.

While Kim has decades of experience teaching her unique combo of stress relief and laughter, her knowledge about your specific industry is likely to be limited. She will work with you and familiarize herself with the types of stressors and challenges faced by your people. And, her true expertise can apply to anyone dealing with stress, either at work or at home.

If you're looking for someone famous.

Kim isn't a celebrity with a gigantic following that could help enroll people for your next event. However, her presentations are very popular with attendees. The fun and value she brings could generate positive word of mouth for your future events.

If you're not open to something that's interactive.

If your group isn't comfortable with a presentation that includes interactive elements, then Kim isn't the best fit for you — even her keynote speech includes some playful participation. It's part of what makes her talks so engaging...and not boring.

Why Kim might be a GREAT fit:

Because you're looking for something unique and fun to spice things up.

If you'd like to give your people an energetic, playful, and memorable experience, Kim can give you that and more! Her specialty is delivering easy how-to's, with plenty of lively amusement.

“I enjoyed the lightheartedness because it was a change of pace from the other talks.”

Kaajal Becha, Project Manager, Risk and Safety Solutions

“Kim is one of the best speakers we've ever had. Funny & insightful.”

Samuel Lea, Owner, Law Office of Samuel Lea

Because you want to provide practical take-aways that people will actually use. Kim teaches simple techniques which can be easily woven into daily life. Your participants will laugh, learn, and leave with practical tools they can benefit from right away.

“I can’t wait to take this back to my team at the office.”

Anna Territo, President, Territo Electric, Inc.

“Kim taught us a new approach to stress relief and I can’t wait to try it out!” Charlie Bennett, Loan Officer, HECM Senior Financing

Because you want a speaker who has a true gift for connecting to audiences. Kim has been entertaining and uplifting audiences for over 30 years. She genuinely wants the best for everyone she speaks to, and participants soak up the lightness and warmth she exudes.

“Kim connected in relatable ways, and every moment felt intentional and valuable. Lots of fun.” Justin Faretta, Product Owner, Delta Defense

“I enjoyed Kim’s authenticity and openness.”

Crystal Johnson-Gooding, Agile Coach for JP Morgan Chase

Because you want to encourage interaction between attendees.

All of Kim’s programs are designed to create positive communication and engagement. Together, participants get to share enjoyable activities and fun brainstorming sessions that naturally lead to uplifting conversations and beneficial connections.

“I loved the openness it created in everyone. We all seemed quiet and then connection was created. Kim rocks!” Vanessa Green, Scrum Master, Somos

“I enjoyed laughing with new people I just met.” Rita Mohsin, Director, FSMB

Because your people could really use a good laugh. In these times of unprecedented challenges and stressors, sharing laughter with others is a much needed gift. Over and over again, people walk out of Kim’s events with giant smiles on their faces. Laughter can be a powerful tool for lifting people up during difficult times.

“This was a breath of fresh air this week. I needed this laughter. I would love to hear Kim speak about literally anything!”

Abrea DaLay, Learning Program Manager, Edward Jones

“It was great! So much fun, brought out the little kid in everyone!”

Carmen Oriz, IT Project Manager, Bloomberg
